

Cell Phone Shoutout (Upfront Game)

This game is from Late Night with Jimmy Fallon. It's fairly simple. Have three volunteers come on stage with their cell phones. You can have the students go one at a time or all at once. Play the video loop provided in this bundle. The students take a picture of the screen as the video rotates images. Whatever image they take a picture of, they get that particular item as a prize. This game is fun and usually gets the crowd laughing. Here are the pictures/funny prizes included in the loop:

1. Bagel
2. Half-Eaten Apple
3. A Worn Sock the student must put on their foot
4. A pie in the face
5. A picture of a raccoon (the student must slow dance with the picture for 20 seconds; have music ready).
6. A frame with a picture of a family inside (use a picture of an awkward family photo found online).
